Have you ever wondered
what it is like to be a flower girl?

Being a flower girl
can feel like a fairy tale.

Every wedding is unique
and unforgettable
in its own way.

Some are even royal.

And just as each wedding is special, so are the flower girls who help make the day shine.

Getting asked to be a flower girl is an invitation to go on a wonderful adventure.

You may get to visit exciting places,

wear an outfit that's
fit for a princess,

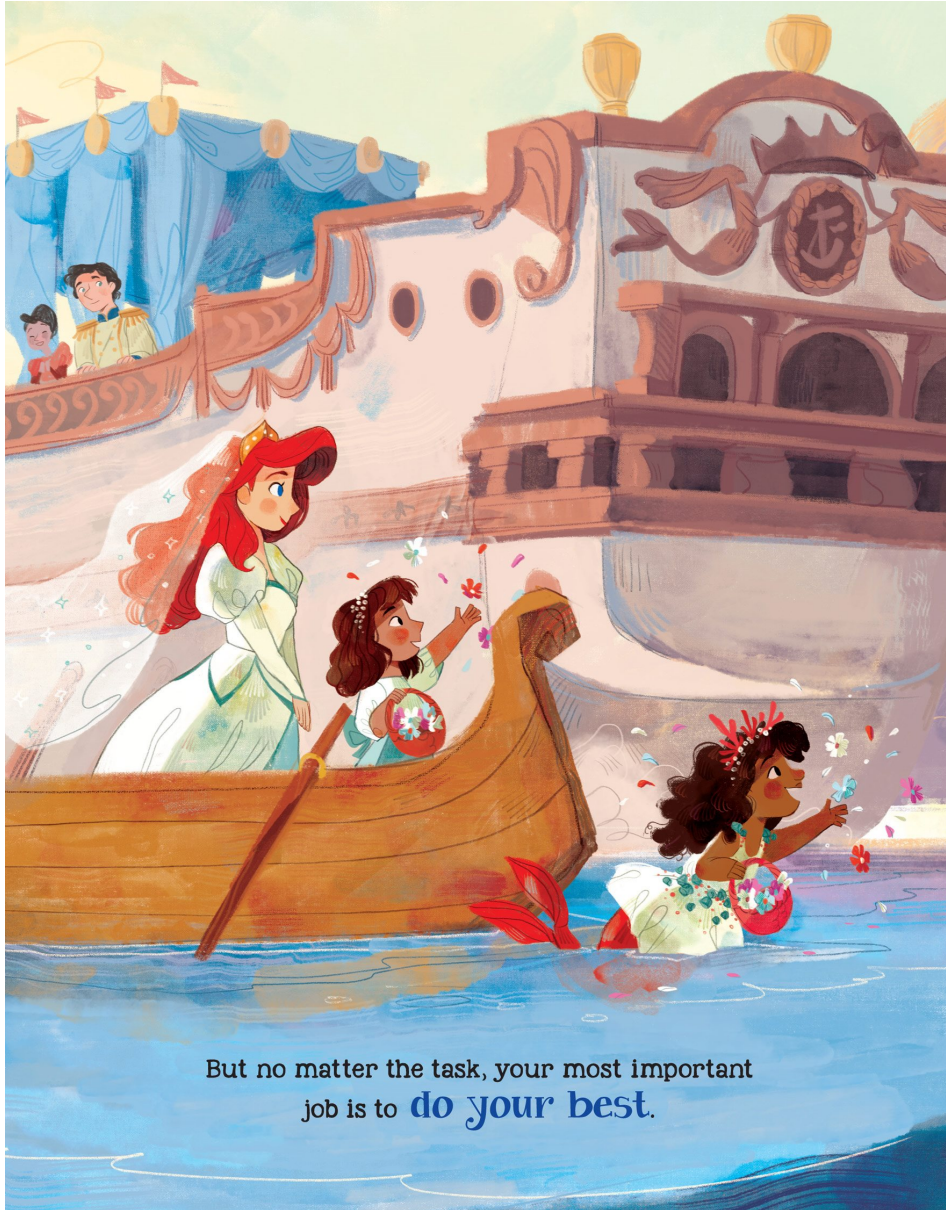

and make new friends.

But being a flower girl is also a big responsibility.

It will be your job to walk—or swim—down the aisle
before the bride.

You may throw petals to lead her way,
or hold on to a pretty bouquet.

But no matter the task, your most important
job is to do your best.

Like all new experiences, being a flower girl may be overwhelming at first.

There may be times
when you don't know what to do,

or you may
get distracted.

And others may seem just as confused as you.

But do your best to pay attention.
You'll get there.

Learning new things is part of the fun!

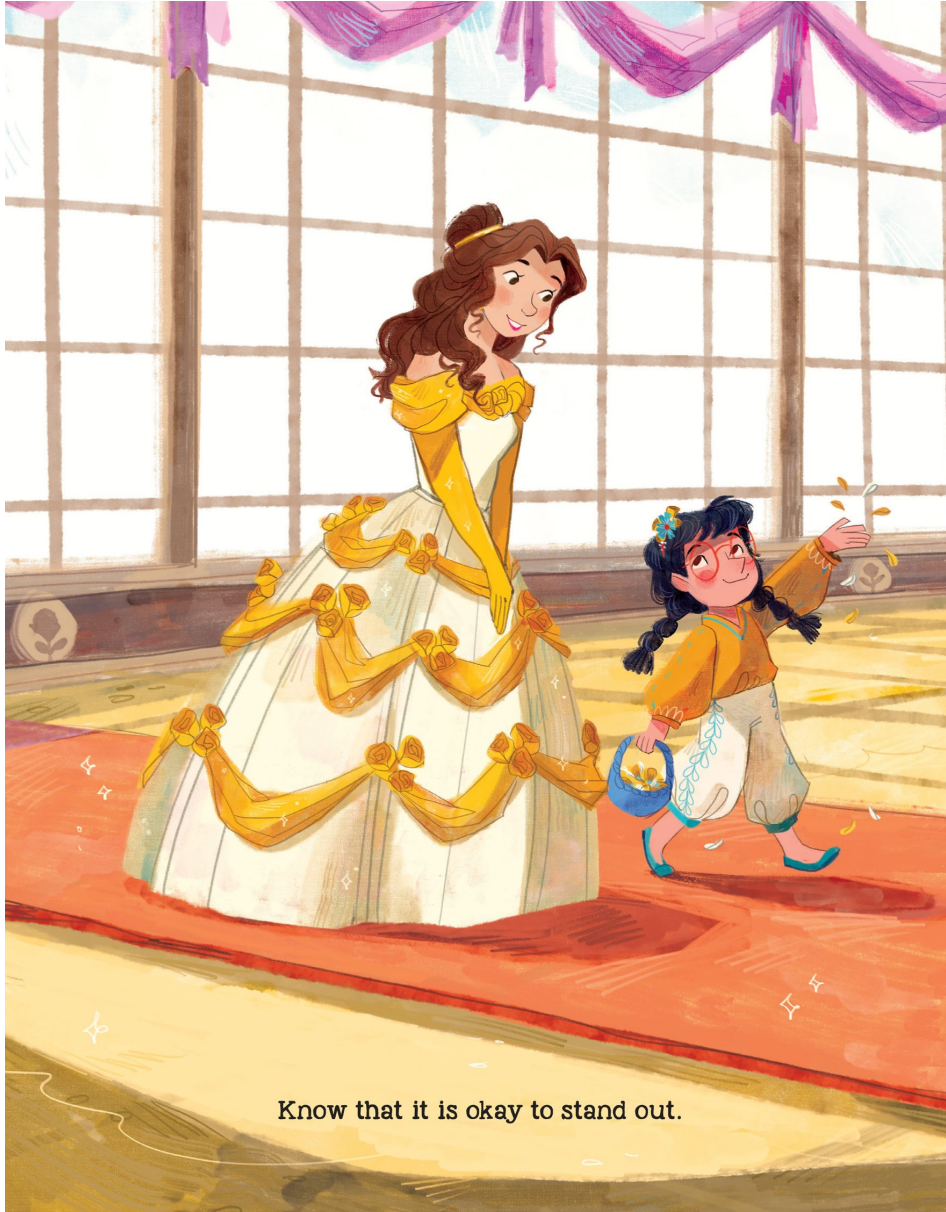

With so many eyes on you,
you may feel pressure to fit in.

Have confidence.

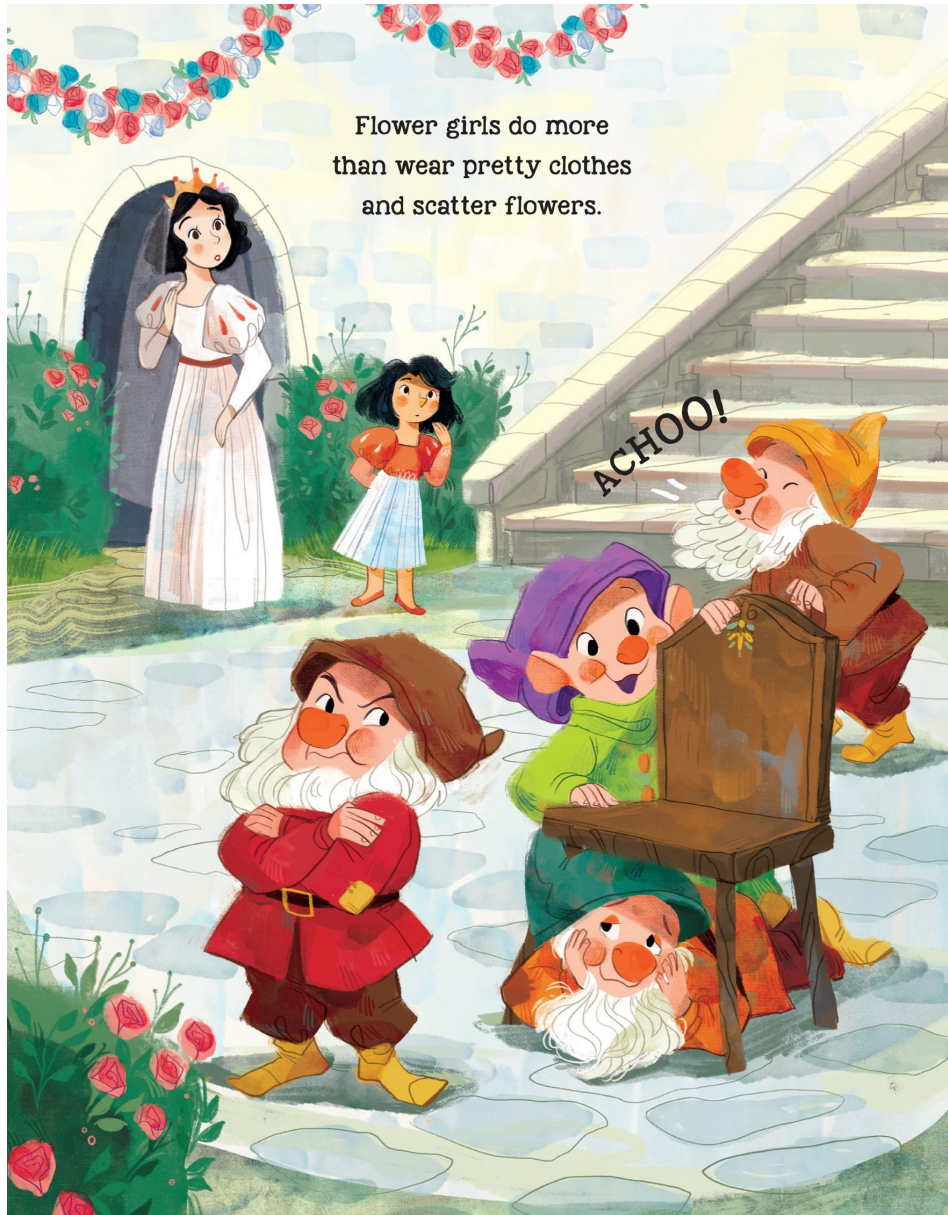

You will be great just as you are.

Know that it is okay to stand out.

Flower girls do more than wear pretty clothes
and scatter flowers.

They can be friendly,
even if others
act grumpy.

They can offer
to lend a hand,

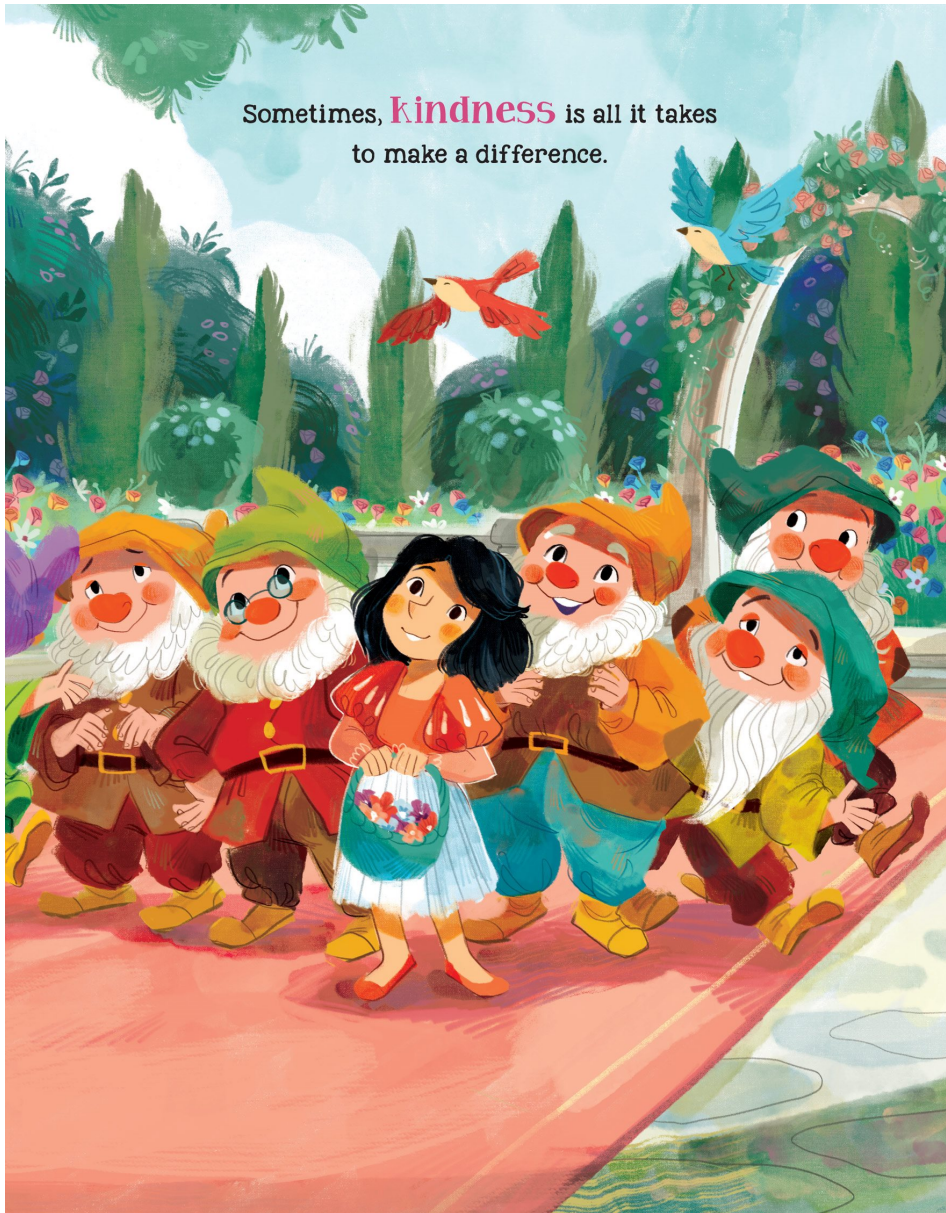

find a tissue,

or give a hug.

Sometimes, kindness is all it takes
to make a difference.

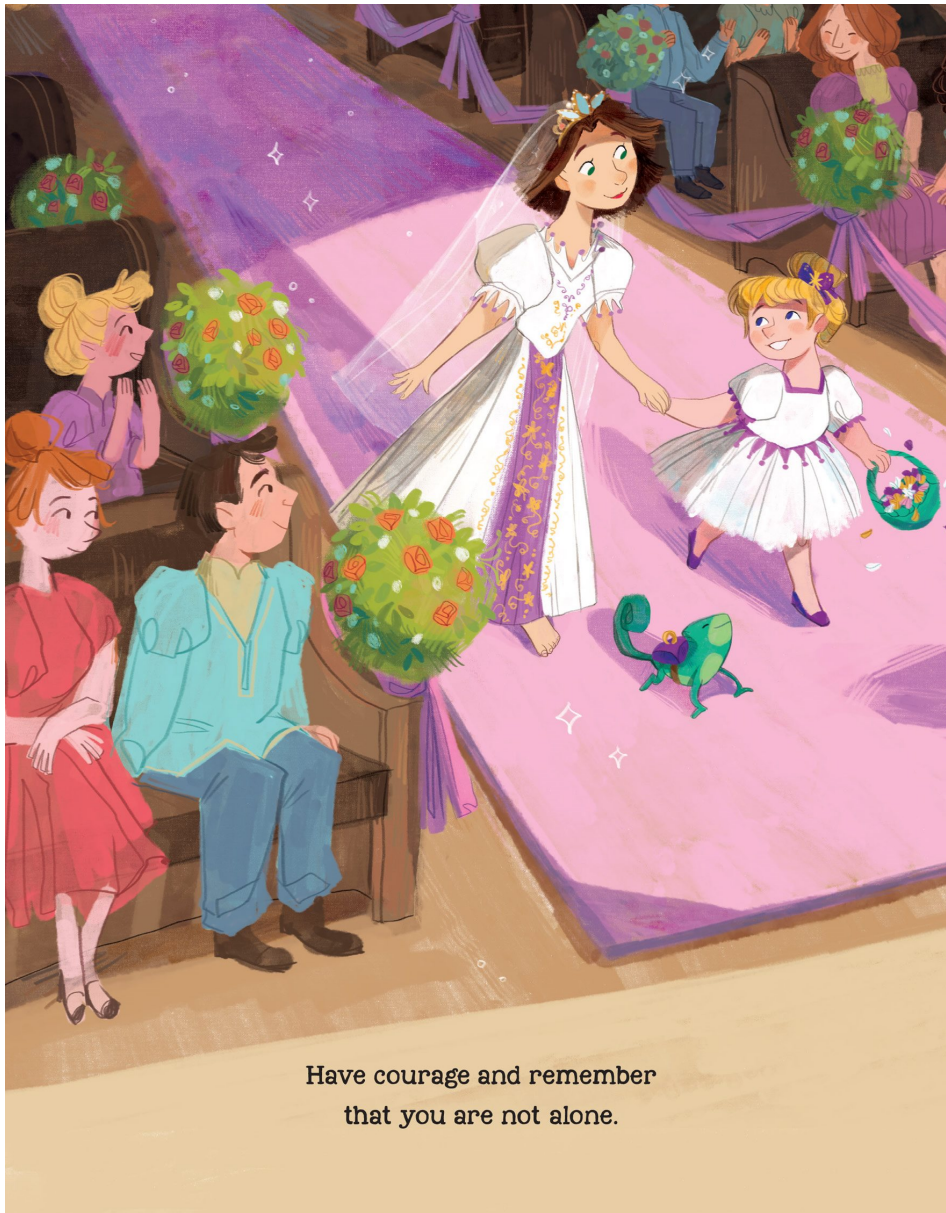

When it is time to walk down the aisle,
it's okay to feel nervous.

Everyone gets nervous sometimes.

Even a princess.

Have courage and remember
that you are not alone.

You are braver than you know.

When the moment finally arrives
for you to do your best walk . . .

and something goes wrong . . .

Smile!

Mistakes may happen.

Weddings don't have to be perfect . . .
to be perfect.

After your big moment is over, it may be hard to stand still during the ceremony.

And there will be
to pose for.

Be patient—your adventure isn't over yet.

The fun has just begun!

Now is your chance to celebrate
all you have done.

Laugh, dance,
and party like a princess.

You deserve it.

So . . . are you ready?

Your flower girl fairy tale awaits!
